

Now Available!

A must-have resource for anyone working in the fathering field today

To learn more or purchase, visit
[routledge.com/
9780367363420](http://routledge.com/9780367363420)

Available in hardcover,
paperback or e-book

New Research on Parenting Programs for Low-Income Fathers is edited by the co-directors of the national Fatherhood Research & Practice Network (FRPN), Dr. Jay Fagan and Dr. Jessica Pearson. It presents state-of-the-art findings of research on fatherhood programs, funded by the FRPN, which advance knowledge and practice in the field.

Key topics covered in New Research on Parenting Programs for Low-Income Fathers include:

- Increasing paternal engagement and improving parenting skills
- Engaging mothers to support father-child contact
- Using social media and online technology to recruit and retain fathers in fatherhood programs
- Building systems-level inclusion for fathers
- Staff training and effective resources for fatherhood practitioners

This book is an important resource for:

- Fatherhood practitioners
- Researchers
- Social workers
- Therapists
- Policymakers

Enjoy 20% off your purchase by entering this code at checkout:

FLR40

To request a copy for review, please visit:

<http://bit.ly/tandfreview>

FRPN is directed by the Center for Policy Research in Denver, Colorado. Learn more about the FRPN at frpn.org.

Fatherhood
Research
& Practice
Network